

Steelworkers Demand Industry Accept WSB Plan

A DETECTIVE CAREFULLY TAKES fingerprints from a car abandoned in Everett, Mass., by three bandits who looted an armored car in Danvers of $681,000. The robbers made their haul while truck guards were drinking coffee and eating sandwiches in a nearby drugstore.

Bandits Who Took $681,000 May Have Made Matching Keys To Armored Truck

Danvers, Mass., (AP)—Investigators said last night that three stealthy bandits who snatched $681,000 in the biggest armored robbery in U. S. history may have had matching keys to "Big Baby"—the money carrying truck.

They expressed the opinion that the thieves obtained the keys by making a mold of keys kept in the Boston garage where the U. S. Trucking Corp. quarters its nine trucks.

It is the same garage where $1,219,000 was seized by grotesquely masked gunmen two years ago from the armored vaults of Brink's, Inc., another money trucking company.

Investigators said it was a custom to hang keys to the trucks in a desk drawer nightly. The desk is two feet from an open garage door—just off the street.

It would have been an easy matter, detectives said, for a thief to get a quick impression of a key to any truck while watchmen were busy.

The truck from which the money was seized Tuesday while it was parked on Danvers' main street is known as "Big Baby" because it is one of the biggest in the company's fleet.

Investigators said that the death of witnesses who have come forward with information indicates that some may fear reprisals. Although the theft occurred on a principal business street on a warm sunny spring day shortly before noon, the number of persons who noticed anything wrong was astonishingly few.

Detectives continued questioning of ex-convicts picked up in Boston but none was held as a suspect.

Court Subpoena Powers May Be Given Morris

Washington (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee yesterday unanimously agreed on a bill to permit a special corruption investigator for the President to obtain subpoena powers through the U. S. district courts.

President Truman had asked Congress to give Newbold Morris, his cleanup man, the power to subpoena witnesses and records. The Judiciary committee of the Senate and the House turned him down.

Yesterday's action, while less than Mr. Truman asked for, would give the investigator, power he doesn't have now.

Under the measure, any U. S. district court could issue orders for the appearance of witnesses or for the production of documents for the use of the investigator if the court was satisfied the orders were needed in the investigation.

Taft's Name Remains On N.J. Ballot

Court Rules Against Taft's Withdrawal

Trenton, N.J. (AP)—Senator Taft, by no doing of his own, yesterday was catapulted back into the New Jersey presidential preference primary—just as abruptly as he withdrew a week ago.

State Superior Court Judge Ralph J. Smalley threw out a state-instituted suit seeking removal of Taft's name from the April 15 Republican popularity poll ballot with the comment:

"In view of overriding public interest, I feel now that the sentiment of the public is for Taft's name to remain on the ballot."

The court action was necessary because Taft withdrew—closing his headquarters here and stopping all campaigning—after the formal withdrawal date, March 12. He asked that his name be taken off the ballot.

Yesterday's development means Taft, who has cancelled scheduled appearances in New Jersey, will oppose General Eisenhower and Harold E. Stassen in the presidential poll.

Supporters of both the general and Stassen have mapped extensive campaign plans.

It will be the second and last head-on clash between Taft and Eisenhower who defeated the Ohio senator in the March 11 New Hampshire primary election.

What will Taft do about the court decision making it mandatory that his name remain on the ballot? The GOP presidential aspirant declined to say.

"It's too far away and I don't know all the circumstances," Taft told a newsmen in Portage, Wis., where he is campaigning for that state's 30 delegates to the Republican national convention next July in Chicago.

There also was no immediate word from leaders of the now defunct New Jersey Taft-for-president organization.

Taft dropped out of the New Jersey primary last Thursday saying a fair contest was not possible in that Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll had come out for Eisenhower. Taft said Driscoll had broken his word to remain neutral.

Driscoll, a darkhorse candidate for a spot on the GOP national ticket, denied Taft's remarks.

Machines Seized At Hazleton Clubs

Vilkes-Barre, (AP)—State and Luzerne county authorities played their own brand of game yesterday afternoon and hit the jackpot in a big way when they seized 39 slot machines in raids on well known Hazleton clubs.

Not only were the Elks club and Drake-Wear Top 593, Veterans of Foreign Wars, deprived of the machines, but both will be cited by the State Liquor Control board because of the gambling devices.

Dilworth Knows Of Gambling

Philadelphia, (AP)—District Attorney Richardson Dilworth said yesterday he knows for a fact some gambling is going on in Philadelphia.

How can he be so sure? Dilworth said that Tuesday the phone rang in his city hall office.

"Hey, Joe," said a voice on the other end of the line, "what was the result of the fifth at Gulfstream?"

Business Bad But Maybe It Was Good Thing

Washington (AP)—Business was bad but maybe it was a good thing.

Mrs. Mary Hummer who operates a dress shop told police a man entered the shop and handed her a note reading "This is a holdup. Give me all your money."

This conversation followed: "I don't have any. I haven't sold a thing all day."

"Okay. But keep quiet about this."

The holdup man escaped.

Stevenson, HST Silent On Reports

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman kept silent last night on published reports that he has asked Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois to become the administration's candidate for president.

Stevenson himself would neither confirm nor deny the story.

"As I have said repeatedly, I am a candidate for reelection as governor of Illinois and have no other ambitions," Stevenson said at Springfield, Ill.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen at the White House at Key West, Fla., that he had "no comment" on the purported move by Truman to draft Stevenson as his successor.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said Truman "offered to use all his influence" to get Stevenson nominated as the Democratic standard bearer, but that Stevenson was "not inclined, as of today, to accept."

Tunisia Under Martial Law

Tunis, Tunisia (AP)—The French clamped martial law on troubled Tunisia yesterday after arresting Premier Mohammed Chenik and three of his pro-nationalist ministers. The protectorate's 3½ million Moslem residents were placed under dusk to dawn curfew.

A midnight crackdown virtually isolated this turbulent North African country, where nearly 100 persons have died in three months of violence sparked by Tunisia's demands for freedom from French rule.

The military enforced rigid censorship on all news inside the country. A ban on outgoing dispatches was lifted last night.

The 62-year-old Chenik and his three colleagues were flown to Kehl, deep in the South Tunisian desert.

French security forces also seized several key members of the nationalist Neo-Destour party and carted them off to jail. These included the party leader, Habib Bourguiba.

Moslems in Tunis promptly went on strike.

French armor and cavalry patrolled the capital on the lookout for any signs of trouble. France has more than 20,000 police and soldiers in Tunisia to keep order.

McGrath Feels U. S. Attorneys Need More Pay

Washington (AP)—Attorney General McGrath yesterday defended the right of Justice department attorneys to practice law on the side if they observed reasonable restrictions.

If the practice were banned, he told House investigators, and if no increased compensation were offered, "you would lose overnight a majority of the U. S. attorneys, and they would be the best we have."

McGrath appeared before a House judiciary committee which is investigating his administration of the Justice department. Open hearings started yesterday.

The attorney general and Cabinet member asserted that his department doesn't need investigating any more than any other Federal agency. Nevertheless, he added, he would be "very glad" to have its operations examined.

Questioned about the outside activities of his legal staff, McGrath said it isn't a general practice for government attorneys to take private law cases, but at the same time it isn't prohibited.

"How can a man practice private law out of one drawer of his desk and represent the government out of another?" asked Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.), committee chairman.

McGrath explained the attorneys are barred from practicing privately in criminal courts and from taking any case which would conflict with the interests of the government.

He said they are also required to be in their offices during working hours and are prohibited from doing private work or seeing clients during working hours.

"Absent do not exist in this field to any substantial degree," he told the congressmen.

McGrath told the committee the present salary scale for government lawyers is so low that it is difficult to get competent men.

Committee members cited the case of T. Lamar Caudle as one reason for making a strict check on the outside activity of Federal lawyers.

Caudle was ousted from his job as assistant attorney general last November by President Truman. The White House said his outside activities were incompatible with his official duties.

Evidence produced at a subsequent investigation showed that Caudle accepted favors from persons whose tax cases were being investigated by the government.

Measure Banning Liquor Ads On Air Is Shelved

Washington, (AP)—The Senate Interstate Commerce committee yesterday shelved, by a vote of 7 to 6, a bill to ban advertising of hard liquor by radio and television.

The bill, strongly backed by church temperance groups, was introduced by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the committee, and Senator Case (R-SD).

It was opposed by the liquor industry and by radio and television broadcasters. Representatives of these concerns said they were not permitting liquor ads on the air and would continue to ban them under industry codes of conduct.

Newspaper groups also opposed the measure. They said it might be the entering wedge for government regulation of all kinds of advertising.

Slight Progress Noted In Talks

Munson, Korea, (AP)—The Allies reported "some slight progress" in yesterday's secret, informal talks on exchange of prisoners, one of three bedrock issues blocking a Korean armistice.

Renewed sessions were held at Panmunjom today.

Brig. Gen. William Nuckolls, United Nations command spokesman, told correspondents last night a Communist proposal for swapping prisoners was "becoming clearer" as a result of the veiled sessions.

The Reds, he added, were displaying "much more frankness" but still hadn't gotten down to brass tacks. The negotiators are taking up the Communist's March 5 plan to trade prisoners on the basis of lists exchanged last Dec. 18. The plan was obscurely worded.

Deer Pays Brief, Surprise Visit To Stroudsburg Home

Mrs. Fred Rarick is a friendly woman but when a deer came calling at her Stroudsburg home she slammed the door.

The Raricks, some neighbors and a half dozen children were out in back of their home at 1196 W. Main St. when the big animal came tearing in from a field about 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Straight for the Raricks' open door it headed, at top speed. Mrs. Rarick jumped back inside the kitchen and slammed the door shut.

The noise scared the animal. It attempted to swerve, skidded, leaped, missed Rarick and the children by inches, crashed into the house and dropped into the Rarick coal box.

Apparently annoyed at such inhospitality, the deer picked itself up, leaped back out of the three-foot-high coal box and left as speedily as it came.

Only damage was to Mrs. Rarick's peace of mind.

C. Of C. Calls For Equal Time To Offer Arguments Against Foreign Aid Bill

Washington, (AP)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce accused the Senate Foreign Relations committee last night of giving the Truman administration a 9-to-1 advantage in the time allotted to witnesses testifying on the new $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The chamber said the Senate group, after hearing government officials testify for nine days in favor of the huge aid program, now plans to jam all non-government witnesses into a one-day session Friday with a 10-minute limit for each.

It charged this represented an attempt by the Senate group to "stifle public opinion."

Denouncing "grandiose foreign aid spending" as a threat to the nation's economy, the chamber went on record with a statement formally opposing any further authorizations for foreign aid this year.

Chamber President D. A. Huley said that when the current fiscal year ends June 30, the administration will still have $7,900,000,000 in unspent foreign aid funds left over from previous years—the same amount it is asking in new funds.

A spokesman for the Mutual Security agency said the chamber's statement gave a "misleading impression." He added: "There is a lot of difference between unexpended funds and obligated funds. It would be true to say that by the end of this fiscal year, June 30, the Defense department estimates almost all of the funds appropriated for this fiscal year will have been obligated."

Huley said the unspent 7.9 billions are "more than enough" to help this country's Allies over the next two years without Congress providing another cent.

Since 1940, the chamber said, the U. S. government has provided 72 billion dollars in grants and loans to foreign countries, and it declared American aid is enabling foreign governments "to indulge in socialistic experiments without facing up to the consequences."

Eisenhowers May Return In Month

Denver, (AP)—Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower disclosed in a letter to a friend here that she and her husband expect to return to the United States within a month.

The letter was received by the Rocky Mountain News in a copy-righted story yesterday.

The News said the letter from Mrs. Eisenhower was written to Mrs. Dick McCusker of Denver, a girlhood friend of Mrs. Eisenhower. The McCuskers had planned to visit General Eisenhower and his wife in Paris this month.

The letter, the News reported, said the Eisenhowers planned on being in the States during the time the Denver family hoped to visit in Paris.

Union Waves Strike Threat Over Mills

Pittsburgh (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers demanded yesterday that the steel industry accept the government's recommendations for ending the steel wage dispute or take responsibility for a nation-wide strike April 8.

Negotiations on the Wage Stabilization board's proposed settlement opened with two of the country's largest steel producers but brought no apparent results.

President Philip Murray of the CIO and the CIO-USB was chary with comment after a one-hour negotiating session with United States Steel Corp.

But he told a cheering Pennsylvania CIO convention in an address that responsibility for any strike would rest squarely on the steel companies.

Talks between the union and "Big Steel" recessed subject to recall by the company.

One of Murray's top aides, USW District Director John Murray, a cousin of the CIO chieftain, said at similar talks with Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. that the union is demanding company acceptance of the WSB proposals.

In Washington some government officials reluctantly declared that in the end a Taft-Hartley act injunction may be necessary to head off a paralyzing strike. Use of labor law could enjoin the steelworkers from a walkout for a total of 80 days.

CIO President Murray told the Pennsylvania CIO convention yesterday that steel companies would have to raise prices only $2 a ton to cover the cost of pay increases. The industry has put the figure at $12.

Charles E. Wilson, director of defense mobilization, announced he would meet at 9:30 a. m. with Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization board; Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam and Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall.

Andrew Berding, press aide for Wilson, told reporters he could not discuss what steps are being considered. But he made it plain that the talks today will concern future administration moves in the steel dispute.

The Wage board headed by Feinsinger has proposed that 650,000 CIO steelworkers be given a 17½ cent hourly pay boost and other major benefits, but Wilson has opposed this plan as inflationary.

Wilson held long conferences yesterday with both Putnam and Arnall but none of the officials had any comment afterwards.

Berding would not say specifically what plans will be discussed at today's meeting. He merely said that steps to be taken in the steel situation will be talked over, and that a statement will be issued afterwards.

As of now, he said, "it's up in the air."

Some government officials were veering to the reluctant conclusion that in the end a Taft-Hartley act injunction might be necessary to head off a strike.

Several conceded privately that the government's own split on the "package" recommended by the Wage board had dimmed hopes of success in the Pittsburgh negotiations.

Though aware of President Truman's distaste for "national emergency" court action under the Taft-Hartley act, the belief spread that there may be no feasible alternative.

Use of the labor law would enjoin the CIO United Steelworkers from a walkout for a total of 80 days. But it would mean using—in an election year—a Republican-written law which has been denounced by union leaders, and in the past, by Mr. Truman.

Meanwhile, in Congress a new harpoon was hurled at the Wage board. Chairman May Bank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking committee predicted Congress will limit WSB's jurisdiction to wage demands only.

This would bar the board from recommending a union shop—as it has done in the steel dispute—and so-called fringe issues. The committee, Maybank told a reporter, will consider the proposal today.

Already pending on the House side, is the more drastic proposal to strip WSB of its dispute-settling powers entirely. Industry members of the board recommended that the controversy-ridden agency be scrapped.

Safety Expert Talks Before Kiwanis Club

Samuel L. Horst, chief of farm and home safety education, State Department of Public Instruction, spoke before the Stroudsburg Kiwanis club at the Penn-Stroud hotel yesterday afternoon. His subject was "Common Hazards Around the Home". Dr. Nathan G. Meyer was in charge of the program.

The speaker declared we need a more definite or a change of attitude toward safety, and asserted we take too much for granted and take too many chances, which are basic causes of the high toll from accidents.

Mr. Horst demonstrated his talk with a number of gadgets. Chances taken by talking pills which include those which are poisonous, excessive speed in driving motor vehicles, carelessness in throwing around garden tools were pointed out as examples. Care in handling gasoline and kerosene was also brought out and illustrated.

There were 37,500 people killed on highways last year and 27,000 persons were injured in accidents in the homes, falls being responsible for most of the latter, he said. He also brought out between 98,000 and 99,000 people were killed in this country in a year or more than in Korea in over a year.

The danger of careless use of matches and cigarettes was also dwelt on, a small match having been responsible for a million dollar fire. "A watch is not always out when we think it is," he said. Care, he showed, is the answer to reducing the number of mishaps, Mr. Horst declared.

The quarterly birthday party was observed. John Watt in his attempt to cut the cake discovered it had been made in the hotel carpentry shop, attractively decorated and with candles. The real birthday cake was sent to the Monroe County General hospital for the patients. Those honored received boutonnières.

The following birthdays were recognized:

January—H. L. Keiper, L. Hayden Jones, John Watt, Eric Schuchard, H. T. Rinker, LeRoy Mikels, A. W. Keiper, Russell Harmon.

February—W. B. Frisbie, C. Edward DePuy, H. L. Sutton, Raymond Price Jr., M. R. Ziegenfuss. March—Earl Willhoite, N. A. Wangman, J. Richard Altomose, A. Nathan Smith, J. P. Stapff, Fred Rhodes.

Gilbert L. Smrz, the president, welcomed these guests: Kiwanian P. J. Rawson, Scranton; also William Williams, Lake Ariel; Earl F. Groner, Stroudsburg; Frederick Deichman, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Walter Heiser, Wilkes-Barre.

Announcement was made of the annual concert to be given Friday night by the choruses of Stroudsburg High School.

PROVERBIAL "BALL AND CHAIN" got an extra workout Tuesday night when a group of Worthington Mower Co. employees tossed a party for one of their members—Kenneth Reynolds, 217 Ninth St.—who was celebrating his last week of "freedom" in blissful bachelorhood. His fellow men, however, crossed Reynolds up. Instead of letting him enjoy his "freedom" they handcuffed him and threw away the key. Luckily, Stroudsburg Police Officer Charles Allen happened along with a key. Reynolds is shown above entreating the patrolman to remove the cuffs. Allen found the key, took the handcuffs off and Reynolds went back to enjoy the continuing celebration. Said Reynolds: "They said this was a party 'for' me. But it wasn't—it was a party 'against' me! That's what it was!" (Daily Record photo)

ESSTC Sends Delegation To Conference

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will be represented at the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers annual conference in Hotel New Yorker, New York City, today and Friday.

The association is composed of schools from the Northeastern states. Last year 78 institutions were represented at the conference with approximately 600 persons registered.

ESSTC will be represented at the conference by Allen Smith, official student delegate, and Jean Bohr, member of the Senate. The Men's Executive Council will send Thomas Graier and the Women's Executive Council has appointed Betty Dunham. The official faculty delegate is Miss Ruth L. Jones, dean of women.

A portion of the program will be devoted to student-faculty discussion groups. These discussions will cover four main themes including: constructing and administering the student budget, better programming of social activities, extending and improving school publications, dramatics and musical activities, and developing effective public relations and recruitment programs.

Each theme will be discussed in two groups—one for colleges enrolling fewer than 500 students of education, one for colleges enrolling more than that number.

Allen Smith and Miss Jones have been asked to serve as co-chairmen of one of these student-faculty discussion groups. The discussion will be on "Constructing and Administering the Student Council Budget" and will be held on Friday from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Need Is Great

Even though most of those who annually contribute to the American Red Cross during the March campaign realize that the need for maintaining the organization's finances at a high point is imperative, that need is emphasized by the tragedy of the mid-west suffering from the tornado.

Although it is still too early to know just how much of the National Red Cross funds will be required to care for those who suffered losses as a result of the storm, it is quite apparent that it will be many millions of dollars.

And the source from which these millions will come must be the Red Cross, in the main, for that is one of the major reasons for its existence. In peace and in war the Red Cross must function at all times, and whether the demand on its funds and energies be the result of war or of such a disaster as the tornado, it must be always ready to respond.

The stories of today tell us that it has responded, promptly and efficiently, to the emergency in the states hit by the terrific winds. Almost as soon as the first word of the disaster was received, Red Cross workers were on the way to the stricken area, followed closely by planes full of medicines, doctors, nurses, and other immediate essentials.

Perhaps some of those who have not contributed to this year's Red Cross campaign here in the Monroe County area will ask how the tornado affects them. If they do, they will have forgotten the big flood and other less dramatic disasters of this area when funds from the national organization came to supplement those which had been raised locally.

So it must always be, with the Red Cross being aided by contributors to the local chapters, giving that their own needs be met and that the needs of others shall not go unattended.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—A retired major general of the U. S. Army, whose name I'll be happy to furnish any committee of Congress interested in saving money, has just supplied me with an up-to-date account of how Americans in Germany are enduring the "extreme hardship conditions" there.

Back in June, I told you of a letter noting the hazardous conditions under which a State department employee was living. He had a rent-free house with servants, a maid, butler, gardener, chauffeur, free laundry and cleaning service, free telephone, and lots of time for weekend trips to resorts. In addition the State department paid him a ten percent "extreme hardship" bonus. When I visited Germany myself in August, I found all this to be true.

This general with the new information has a long record of faithful service in the U. S. armed forces and knows whereof he speaks. He goes into the generosity of us taxpayers as it pertains to the subsidization of military personnel in Germany insofar as their daily needs are concerned.

"The cost of living in the United States has hit an all time high," he writes. "The married man with a couple of children is trying desperately to stretch his paycheck over the inflated grocery bill while he is also paying more taxes in order to make up the overhead to provide post exchange and commissary privileges for thousands of unauthorized persons in Germany, including newspapermen."

Then he tells about service personnel in Germany. It makes interesting reading, particularly for civilian housewives here who have to pay the food bills. For instance, in Germany Americans can purchase butter for 46 cents a pound; flour, five cents; sugar, eight cents; coffee, 75 cents; porterhouse steak, 66 cents; Swift's premium turkey, 54 cents a pound; cigarettes, 10 cents a pack.

Hairstats are 35 cents and the man of the house can get a barbershop shave for 20 cents. Mama's shampoo, hair set and manicure is $1.40.

Gasoline for Americans on official assignment is 16 cents a gallon and automobile tags are $1.00. The general adds, however, that "Americans can travel on German trains with special luxury cars for one-sixth the price that is charged Germans, and use a special taxicab at special low rates. They can go to famed Bavarian Alps resorts and pay for rooms not to exceed $1.00 a day with meals at $1.50."

One of the purposes of occupying Germany is to wean the Germans away from Nazism and Communism and teach them a little Democracy. Here is the way the general says we are doing it: "There are requisitioned swimming pools for Americans only, special fine clubs with German servants in magnificent requisitioned mansions and bars and dining rooms operated in a grand manner with food and drink purchased at the rock bottom commissary and post exchange prices."

The general accuses the army of breaking the law and circumventing the will of Congress in providing the hordes of State department officials and other civilians in Germany with a cut rate living. He says that in addition to "paying out billions to bring the standard of living of all European nations up to that of the United States, and rearming many nations that don't, in their hearts, want to rearm except as an incidental to getting more money, the U. S. taxpayer has been subsidizing thousands of employees of corporations and other unauthorized civilians, who, according to the intent of the basic law of Congress and army regulations, are not entitled to these privileges."

The cut rate living is provided for soldiers, sailors and marines overseas. But their needs are forgotten in the rush of civilians intent on a bargain basement living while drawing "hazardous duty" bonuses in addition to their adequate salaries.

Under the law the army is authorized to open post exchanges and commissaries to civilians in "remote places." Germany is considered remote. The general says the Defense department is abusing this definition. President Truman has just asked Congress to remove the "war law" that provides for this largesse to "remote citizens living luxuriously in Germany."

Anyone in Germany who is fast on his feet in international currency exchange also can supplement his salary with adroit dealings in Deutsch Marks. One way is to buy up antiques and ship them without cost to the U. S. for resale. Another is to stock up on coffee, nylon, tea, sugar, candy and cigarettes and then unload the surplus to the Germans at fancy prices. The general says he's willing right now to tell any interested committee of Congress just who is doing it.

Mental Health

The organization of Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc., as a non-profit citizens' group to operate in the field of mental health care and education, is a hopeful sign.

Pennsylvania needs a watchful citizens' group in this field. For the job of caring for the mentally unhealthy has increased rapidly in the past 20 years. It now is one of the chief functions of the State Welfare Department.

Several times in the past 15 years the state has undertaken large programs to expand the capacities of its mental hospitals, to relieve intolerable overcrowding. The two-year cost of operating the 20 hospitals and providing other mental care is $65 millions—more than double the cost of ten years ago.

Like the long fight against tuberculosis, this is going to be a financial burden on the public until the resources of science can make headway against the growing case-load and head off new cases by preventive work.

The new mental health group will be allied with the National Association of Mental Health, and it can do for the mental health problem what similar groups of citizens have done on other health problems.

Malcolm Hay, spokesman for the new organization, says it will seek expansion of psychiatric service, more research and an enlarged program of mental health education, more hospitals and clinics for prompt treatment of patients.

But more hospitals would give no guaranty of success. One of the factors that mushroomed Pennsylvania's mental care problem is the large number of chronic cases, whose treatment is custodial, rather than remedial.

More hospitals of this kind can't be expected to make progress. More effective hospitals, with improved treatment methods and adequate staffs, backed by research and clinical facilities, would be a better answer.

I'm told band-leader Elliott Lawrence and Rhonda Fleming are keeping it alive via overseas telephone.

Anybody have a better report?

The entire score of Al Jolson's historic early soundie, "The Jazz Singer," is being rewritten for Danny Thomas, all except the ancient Hebrew chant, "Kol Nidre," the only melody of the original Danny will not sing. He is a devout Catholic.

"After the Big House," the factual reminiscences of a retired New York parole officer, is nearing release date. I found it fascinating. Fred Benson, who writes it in the first person, sets forth the rarely told lives of the men out on a "raincheck," having served their minimum time, who are supervised and checked by a type of "eyes" who experience all the adventure, violence, hard justice and sympathetic impulses common to men who have power over the lives of criminals. The ex-cons must get and hold jobs, may not marry or live in immoral circumstances or fraternize with others of their kind. They must account for their every hour as long as their maximum sentences hang over them... I found the numerous case histories great reading.

And that reminds me—Arthur Maimel, who operates those state-named restaurants and the Bird In Hand, has found jobs for more than 50 parolees in the last five years. It's his big outside interest. He tells me not one ever betrayed his trust... Benson mentions such cases, too, though the ones who violate their pledge make

McCarran vs. Lattimore

When Owen Lattimore issued his 17,500-word diatribe against Congress and the world, many newspapers published huge parts of it. Senator McCarran's reply, to which all the members of his committee subscribed, was, in my judgment, insufficiently noted.

It would seem that Senator McCarran's formal charges, part of the record of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, places upon the Attorney General the obligation to examine the record and to initiate actions under the law.

Senator McCarran said: "... the committee was confronted with an initial fusillade of invective, and a consistently evasive, contentious, and belligerent attitude."

"Suggestions have been made that the committee should seek to discipline Mr. Lattimore for his contumacious and contemptuous conduct. Clearly, Mr. Lattimore did, on many occasions, stand in contempt of the committee..."

As regards Lattimore's memory, Senator McCarran stated:

"Mr. Lattimore has testified to having a type of memory with which the committee is quite familiar. With respect to some matters, he has demonstrated that his memory is extremely good. But he has testified that his memory was unreliable with respect to matters which ordinary men might be expected to remember most clearly."

Very few men forget about their visits to the President of the United States. If the number of such visits is small, but Mr. Lattimore, who said he saw President Truman just once, wanted this committee to believe he had forgotten the incident when he testified before the Tydings Committee with respect to his influence on Foreign Policy.

"Mr. Lattimore also has testified before this committee that all during that prior Senate investigation he forgot the fact that he had a desk in the State Department Building for four, five, or six months during the last war."

"The precise extent to which Mr. Lattimore gave untruthful testimony before this committee will never be determined. Human limitations will prevent us from ever attaining the complete knowledge of all his activities which would make it possible to assess each statement he has made and to catalogue fully whatever untruths he may have uttered. That he has uttered untruths stands clear on the record..."

Senator McCarran then proceeded to report in detail a number of untruths which appear in the testimony. As I am now engaged in reading the whole of the transcript of this hearing, I seem to have found some that Senator McCarran raised—contradictions, tricks of memory, etc. Of course, none of us can be sure of memories, but the subject matter with which the committee concerns itself relates directly to the fields in which Lattimore is a reputed expert. In such fields, it is expected that his memory will serve.

One interesting phase of the Lattimore testimony is his relationship to American policy. He denies that he has influenced the United States policy in the Far East. Yet, his testimony, as Senator McCarran states, shows that he exercised a very potent influence.

Mr. Lattimore's testimony is significant with respect to the facts. He testified that he wrote a letter to the President of the United States, in 1945, making certain statements with regard to conditions in the Far East, and urging a review of United States Foreign Policy with respect to the Far East, from which review then top officials of the State Department should be excluded. Mr. Lattimore testified that he saw the President personally, and left with him memoranda suggesting certain courses of action with respect to Japan and China; and that these memoranda included a recommendation for giving a larger measure of high authority to officials with China backgrounds.

"Soon thereafter, according to Mr. Lattimore's own testimony, the then top officials of the State Department were replaced, including former Ambassador Grew. Further, the number and importance of top jobs in the State Department, held by persons with China backgrounds, was increased. Finally this witness testified that the policy advocated, shortly thereafter, in the so-called "Directive" of December 15, 1945, on China policy, and which our government sought to carry out in China, was substantially the same as the policy outlined in Mr. Lattimore's memoranda with respect to China; and that the policy adopted by the United States with respect to Japan, was substantially the same as the policy with respect to Japan outlined in Mr. Lattimore's memoranda."

Vernon Gomez, eccentric south-paw star of the Yankees of yesterday, told an audience of youthful sandlotters, "I hold the record for the longest home run in the Yankee Stadium." After a pause for effect, he added, "Yep, kids, Jimmy Foxx hit it off me."

Gomez was a soft touch for mooching pals, but one of them, already in his debt for over five hundred dollars, went too far. He wired Lefty, "My poor old mother just died and unless you loan me two hundred at once, they'll bury her in Potter's Field. Gomez replied, "I did not receive your telegram."

Hollywood—Monica Lewis, the pert little blues singer, visited a field hospital in Korea recently.

An Army surgeon asked her to step into a tent where he was operating on a wounded flier. He thought a hello from Monica might cheer up the patient.

"May I kiss him?" she asked after exchanging "Hi" with the flier.

"Wish you would," said the doctor; "his blood pressure's low." Monica didn't learn whether his blood pressure went up. But she did hear later that he had gotten well. Maybe the kiss helped.

This gal with brown eyes and full, kissable lips is a favorite sweetheart of G.I.s in Korea. They send her about 500 letters a week making her the mail leader among performers on the Armed Forces Radio Service.

Twice a week she records a 15-minute show, "Personal Album." She sings, talks, and reads excerpts from the letters. The program is broadcast on Army stations over-seas and earphone networks in hospitals in this country.

On the recent Korea tour, she and Danny Kaye gave 23 shows to audiences of 12 to 15,000. They traveled by plane and helicopter. Once there were shells whizzing over their hillside arena.

Another Call For Help—France wants the U. S. to let it have some squirrels! Count Jean de Lesseux of the French National Parks Board says they are rapidly disappearing from parks over there, especially in Paris, and in a 30-page report appeals to America for at least 3,000 to help in a breeding drive. This clearly calls for a rush of Congressmen to Paree to look into the squirrel situation, get the real facts and report back to the American people. Americans are believed willing to do their part in any squirrel crisis anywhere. They will support any movement to get the squirrels of France back on their feet. But let us have the data and data so we may meet the arguments of the isolationists who believe in squirrels for America only, say we.

Do the French want to pay for the squirrels or do they want them sent lend-lease? Are they own squirrels and those of other European free nations doing all they can in the emergency? This may be a matter for the U. N. "We are out on a limb on so many other matters why not take on squirrels?" asked one leader today. Other opinions follow:

President Truman—"Squirrels are a lot of eyewash. Did I ever tell you about that high school paper called 'The Glenn' that I started on Groundhog Day?"

Dean Acheson—"When you consider the serious global situation you automatically consider the situation in chipmunks. This could lead us into the matter of rabbits and involve us in the whole complicated issue of the world supply of cabbage."

Leon Keyserling—"What is the difference whether we run out of squirrels or not? We owe them to ourselves and other squirrels."

Averill Harriman—"If the free world is short of squirrels it is our duty to support it to the limit of our capacity in every effort to restore a position of strength in that respect. I consider it most shortsighted to believe that we should keep our squirrels at home and let the

139 Pints Of Blood Given At Barrett

Barrett township resident donated 139 pints of blood during a visit of the bloodmobile yesterday. The mass donations climaxed a drive by the Legionnaires of Evans-Blitz Post 922. Legionnaires and auxiliary members had canvassed the area for days to sign up donors.

The 139-pint donation was the biggest on record for the Barrett area, Legion members said.

Donations were made at Barrett Township High school in Mountainhome.

Five of the donors were members of the Stroudsburg Elks lodge who had been unable to attend when the bloodmobile visited the Elks organization.

Some 26 donors were processed in the first hour. After that, donations continued steadily. Donors included students, middle-aged women and a few elderly persons.

The canteen served free snacks throughout. Some of the organizations who volunteered their help were members of the Red Cross motor corps, Staff assistants, Gray Ladies, Canteen Service, Nurses' Aid, Volunteer Registered Nurses and the Bloodmobile unit staff itself.

Auto Kills Deer Near Wind Gap

Wind Gap—William V. Morrison, Philadelphia, killed one of the first deer of the year near here yesterday.

The killing was accidental, however, and Morrison used a car, not a gun.

He told Brodheads State police he was driving toward Scranton on Route 115 at about 7:45 a. m. when a deer leaped across the highway a half mile north of here. Morrison said it was too late to stop.

The front end of the car struck the animal.

The deer was instantly killed. No damage was done to the car or driver. State police notified Clair Miller, deputy game warden, who removed the carcass.

Rivets Placed In Meters, Easing Cops' Repair Duties

Borough police expect to spend more time as officers and less as meter repairmen, thanks to a tiny gadget now being installed in Stroudsburg's parking meters.

The gadget, a rivet about an eighth of an inch long and thick as the lead in a pencil, will make it impossible to jam meters by putting in several coins without turning the handle.

All but about 70 of Stroudsburg's 360 parking meters have been converted. Officers still are repairing meters at the rate of about 15 a day, but most of the jams occur in the meters which don't yet have the rivet.

Although the meters have been in use three years, many local residents still claim they "didn't know" they were supposed to turn the handle after each coin put in the slot.

This widespread lack of knowledge caused so many jams that officers last summer were repairing as many as 70 meters a day.

Thanks to the pint-sized rivet, however, official tempers should be lower next summer and the borough should net more revenue.

Nine Children Separated By Court Order

Chicago (AP)—Love and good will weren't enough to keep the nine motherless Green children together.

The economic facts of life accomplished their separation yesterday, against their own and their relatives' wishes.

Judge Robert J. Dunne of family court ordered custody of the brood split three ways as the eldest child, Patricia, 15, went uncontrollably. The children's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Green of suburban Willow Springs, told Judge Dunne they didn't have the means to continue caring for them.

The nine children, ranging in age from one to 15 years, were left motherless Jan. 24 when Mrs. Rose Green broke through thin ice and drowned in the Des Plaines river in a futile attempt to rescue her eldest daughter. The children's divorced father has not been heard from since the tragedy.

Judge Dunne ordered that the eldest girl, Patricia, remain in temporary custody of her grand parents until April 9, when another hearing on her case will be held.

The five next oldest children—Edward, 13, Mary Ann, 11, Johanna, 10, Thomas, 8, and Theodore, 7—will be cared for in the Soldiers and Sailors Children's school at Normal, Ill. Patricia is too old for admission.

The three youngest children, John, 5, Bernard, 3, and Frances, 1, were placed in a foster home in Du Page county.

As Patricia was leaving the courtroom in tears, a newsman asked where she wanted to go. The child who has acted as mother to the brood since the tragedy sobbed that she would like to go to the same foster home as the three youngest children "because they need me."

Judge Dunne indicated he might let her join them when the matter of her custody comes up April 9.

Big Write-In For MacArthur Urged By State Group

Philadelphia, (AP)—A statewide primary write-in drive on behalf of Gen. Douglas MacArthur is being planned by his backers in Pennsylvania.

John G. Davis, chairman of a group known as "Fighters for MacArthur," said yesterday each of the State's 67 counties will be reached in an effort to give the general a "substantial" write-in vote in the Pennsylvania primary election April 22.

Davis' group lost a court fight to keep MacArthur's name on the Pennsylvania primary ballot after the general himself withdrew.

Property Assessed At 9 Per Cent Of Value, Another At Over Half

(This is the twenty fifth in a series of articles based on actual real estate sales in boroughs and townships and the amounts at which those properties were assessed. Figures were taken from official county records.)

By Leonard Randolph

During the four month period from July through October, 1951, twenty properties changed hands in Stroudsburg borough. Sale prices on these properties ranged from a low of $500 to a high of $35,000.

Percentage-wise, assessments amounting to from 9 per cent to 54 per cent of the individual market value were placed on the 29 properties.

One of the properties was assessed at 9 per cent of value; two at 12 per cent; one at 13; one at 14; two at 15; one at 16; two at 18 per cent; one at 19; one at 20; one at 22; three at 23; one at 24; one at 28; one at 50 and one at 54 per cent of market value.

The first of the 23 per cent assessments was set for a $15,000 "house and lots" on Scott st., sold during July. The assessment established by the ward assessor was $3,500.

During this same month a "house and lots" sale on N. Fifth St. had a market value of $10,000 and was assessed at $2,800 or 28 per cent of the sale price.

An $11,000 Scott St. house was assessed at $2,500 or 23 per cent of its market value. The third and final 23 per cent assessment was set on an $8,000 "house and lot" on Thomas St., assessed at $1,800.

During the middle part of July a house on Greenway Ave. sold for $8,000 and was assessed at $1,200 or 15 per cent of its value. A second Greenway Ave. house sold for $5,500 and was assessed at $1,100 or 20 per cent of its market value. A third house on the same avenue sold for $9,000 and was assessed at $1,100 or 12 per cent of its market value.

A study of the two figures given above illustrates a degree of disparity which has occurred many times over in Monroe county assessments in almost all areas. Here we have two "houses" both assessed at exactly the same value. Yet one of the two houses sold for only $5,500 while the second had a market value of $9,000.

This means, of course, that although his property may actually be worth only about half that of the more expensive house the first property owner is paying taxes on exactly the same assessed valuation.

A further degree of disparity may be noted in a comparison between either of these two properties and the $8,000 house. The latter sold for $2,500 more than the $5,500 house. Yet the property is assessed at only $100 more than the cheaper house.

Contrasting the market and assessed values of the remaining two houses we discover that, although the third Greenway Ave. house sold for $1,000 more than the $8,000 purchase, it is assessed at $100 less. Percentage-wise, the man who bought the $9,000 house pays taxes on only 12 per cent of his property's value while the man who bought the $5,500 house is assessed at 20 per cent.

A $3,500 house on S. Ninth St. was assessed at $650 in July. This assessment was 19 per cent of the market value.

A $1,500 sale of lots on Stokes Ave. was assessed at $200 or 13 per cent of its market value; a $7,500 house on Barry St., was assessed at $1,550 or 22 per cent of its value.

There were three sales in Stroudsburg involving "commercial" properties during July. The first of these is described as a combination commercial and apartment building. It sold for $35,000 and was assessed at $7,500 or 15 per cent of its market value.

A Dreher Ave. commercial property meanwhile sold for $24,500 and was assessed at $14,300—54 per cent of its market value. There is no apparent explanation for the wide diversity in the two assessed valuations.

A third commercial property, at an unidentified location, sold for $10,000 during this period. It was assessed at only $1,200 or 12 per cent of the market value.

During the three-month period August, September and October, five residential properties were sold. These were assessed at from 9 to 50 per cent of their market value.

"Jodge hall." This building, located in the second Ward, was sold for $22,500. Its assessed value, however, was placed at $4,100 or 18 per cent of the market value.

Although, as has been stated previously in this series of articles on Stroudsburg, the degree of disparity between assessments in various districts or wards may be accounted for, partially, by the personal evaluation of property held by individual assessors, there are many indications that the difference should not, under any circumstances, be so great.

The two commercial properties, for example, which sold during July for $55,000 and $24,500 and were assessed at $7,500 and $14,300, respectively. Here we have the peculiar paradox of a property owner paying $24,500 for a property which he finds assessed at nearly twice as much as a second property which sold for $55,000—224 per cent of the sale price of the cheaper property.

This means that the "smaller" property owner is paying twice as much per year in taxes on a property which is worth less than half the market value of the more expensive building.

SHE

But not the average woman! She sees what the man misses: a fascinating new accessory—the "glove stole." With hat to match!

No matter where she first picks up such news tidbits—about clothes, food, beauty, home decorating—only the newspaper has the answers to her questions "Where can I get it? For how much?"

So she watches the newspaper every day. Sometimes she has a definite purchase in mind—a new rug, or refrigerator, or topcoat for Daddy.

Often she simply has a mental drawer full of half-conscious wants—anything from a new frozen food to a folding terrace tea table.

Like men, women have found from experience that if they miss a single issue of the local paper, they miss something important.

Everybody makes that same discovery, very early in life. So everybody reads the newspaper... every day.

Why do advertisers spend more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Simply because everybody reads the newspaper, for its advertising as well as for fun or news.

So, why advertise only to fractions of the people who can buy?

Radio and TV programs reach only fractions of anybody's market—sport fans, home-makers, kids, or whatever. And even they can't all listen at the time a commercial is broadcast.

Magazines reach only fractions of a market. For each one appeals to some people—not to others.

The Newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody.

Only the newspaper is first with the most news... first with the most people... first with the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Sen. Bridges To Appear At Probe Today

Washington, AP—Senator Bridges (R-NH) made a date yesterday to appear before House investigators at 10:30 a.m. today and explain his interest in the seven million dollar tax case of Hyman Harvey Klein, Baltimore liquor dealer.

Bridges is appearing voluntarily, Rep. King (D-Calif.) announced. He said the senator expressed a desire to be heard as soon as possible.

King is chairman of a ways and means committee which has been digging into tax scandals involving the Internal Revenue bureau and the Justice department.

Witnesses have told the subcommittee that Henry W. Grunewald, a behind-the-scenes operator in Washington, interceded in Klein's behalf after the government placed jeopardy tax assessments of more than seven million dollars against Klein. Klein has testified he made huge profits in wartime whiskey deals.

The committee also has heard that Bridges interested himself in the Klein case, telephoning or conferring with tax officials about SEATTLE UNIVERSITY freshman James S. Leedom, 18, died of an infection of bacterially-contaminated blood given during an experiment connected with war research. He was one of 40 volunteers taking part in the project to find better means of preserving whole blood longer than 21 days.

It was on at least five occasions. Ellis Rosenberg, Klein's personal attorney, gave the committee some more details of Klein's complicated corporate transactions yesterday.

More Loot Recovered At Reading

Reading, AP—Police found another cache of loot from a $170,000 burglary yesterday and said they gained a confession from a 25-year-old bookkeeper and former convict.

Det. Lt. Paul Slapikas said Paul Baer, an employee of a leather goods firm, admitted breaking into the home of Mrs. Helen M. Bidden last Friday night and stealing the money, then splitting it with an accomplice.

Arrested for questioning last Monday, Baer was quoted by Slapikas as claiming that more than $170,000 was divided between him and a friend he identified as Edward Joseph Greely, of Reading. Mrs. Bidden had reported the theft of $125,000.

A cache of $9,980 was found by a police garage mechanic yesterday under a wooden loading platform of the leather goods firm, where $85,258 was found two days ago stuffed in a cardboard box.

Also uncovered yesterday in the same hiding place were several gold pieces, $240 in additional cash and a collection of jewelry which police believed was loot from

State Conducting New Survey To Determine Changes In Commercial Airline Schedules

Harrisburg, AP—A new state-wide survey is being conducted by the Department of Commerce to determine what changes should be made in commercial airline schedules.

"We had a complete report in 1948 on what types of service were needed and where they were necessary," said William W. Behrens, deputy secretary of commerce.

"But that report needed to be brought up to date. So we have hired the aviation consultant firm of Kimball and Gill, Tarrytown, N. Y., to determine what changes should be made."

Behrens said the findings of the survey will be made known sometime next month.

In addition to making recommendations, Kimball and Gill have agreed to help the State Justice department handle appeals from the various airlines and communities seeking changes in schedules.

All such appeals must be cleared by the Civil Aeronautics authority at Washington before air service may be altered.

The 1948 study, made by Charles A. Rheinstrom of New York, recommended that 26 Pennsylvania municipalities have commercial air service. They were:

Allentown, Bethlehem and Easton (all one airport), Altoona, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Lancaster, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh,

Reading, Scranton and Wilkes-

Barre (one airport) and York.

Also Williamsport, New Castle,

Hazleton, Pottsville, Butler, Oil

City, Bradford, Conneville, Sunbury, Dubois, State College and Stroudsburg.

Others, which Rheinstrom said

did not require scheduled service

but which might become entitled to it as they continued to grow,

were:

Lebanon, Pottstown, Meadville,

Warren, Chambersburg, Beaver

Falls, Coatesville, Indiana, Lewistown, Lock Haven and West Chester.

Police still sought Greely. Warrants charging the pair with burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods were issued yesterday.

Public Invited To Hear Dr. Evelyn Duvall Discuss Family Relations Tonight

Dr. Evelyn Millis Duvall, who is to be the guest speaker at the East Stroudsburg Methodist church tonight at 8, is a recognized authority on family relations. Dr. Duvall comes to Monroe county from Chicago, Ill., where she resides with her husband, Sylvannus M. Duvall, professor of social science and religion, George Williams College, Chicago, and her two daughters, Jean Louise and Joy Mills.

She obtained her education at Syracuse University from which she was graduated with the B. S. degree in 1927. Mrs. Duvall received her M. S. from Vanderbilt University in 1929. She attended teachers college, Columbia, in 1938 and Northwestern from 1938 to 1940, and obtained her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1946.

Among Dr. Duvall's writings are "Building Your Marriage" (1946), "Facts of Life and Love" (1950), "Family Living" (1950), "Keeping up with Teen Ageds, Leading Parents Groups" (1946), "Marriage is What You Make It" (1942), "When You Marry" (1945), and numerous articles for popular and professional periodicals.

In Dr. Duvall's range of experience are these distinctive places of leadership: National Council on Family Relations, executive secretary, 1945 to 1951; summer teaching, Florida State University, Northwestern University, Syracuse University, University of Chicago, University of Tennessee. Her radio appearances include America's Town Meeting of the Air, and other major network and local programs.

Weak, Run-Down Men and Women

Often Feel and Act Years Younger
When They Take Ferrizan

Thousands of men and women with their youth behind them are finding the strain of modern life and work exhausting their energy and vitality gone—their vitality and strength at a low ebb. Often because they fail to get from their food the proper amount of iron and iodine, and the necessary valuable vitamins every one needs if they expect to regain and retain a normal, healthy body.

Is it surprising that Doctors tell such folks to ease up—get more rest—give their tired nerves and body a chance to get well—and take vitamins? Certainly not. The Vitamin-Mineral way is the modern way—the tested, proven way; and one right way is to take Ferrizan, the complete modern dietary supplement that gives you each and every day a full supply of the important B Vitamins, with plenty of iron to enrich the blood and the full daily requirement of that most important element—Iodine, so universally deficient in inland areas.

To all who suffer from these depressing symptoms, we say, "try Ferrizan at our risk for thirty days. See if it doesn't bring about a remarkable improvement. If it fails or if you are in any way dissatisfied, it won't cost you a penny," says Lettar's Rexall Drug Store, 630 Main St.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Easter egg hunts, May day programs, annual Spring meetings all are springing up in the social news like so many magnifying glasses on the calendar.

But one item particularly, brings Summer so close that you feel as if you could reach out and touch it. That's the appeal of the East Stroudsburg Band Mothers to make this cake walk a memorable one for the seniors for whom it will be the last one.

Lends a sense of urgency, doesn't it? I was sort of amused, reading the high school students forum remarks in New York last weekend, to note that while the students from the Middle East and Asia, marveled at our time-saving conveniences, they marveled even more at the haste with which we found things to fill up the time we saved.

Touche! on that one. And they scored another point by pointing out that while we had the abundant food in the world in the greatest variety and easiest to prepare—all Americans took vitamins.

And still another by decrying the "tribal custom" of dating, which seems so strange to the rest of the world. If that is the best way of deciding on a husband, how come so many American marriages ended in divorce, they asked?

Well, maybe one of these days we'll have time to think up some answers.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVFO, 10:00 a.m.

Local Girl Stationed In Africa

Tannersville—Word has been received that Miss Barbara Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hartman, has arrived at her permanent station, Wembo Nyama in the Belgian Congo. Until this time she had been attending the language school at Lodja, studying the native tongue of Otetela.

She writes that Wembo Nyama is a huge station, with nine missionary residences, a beautiful large church a Bible school, a Normal School, Primary School, a print shop and the hospital.

The mission village is at least four times as large as the one at Lodja. The new hospital is still in the building, but there is plenty of work for Bobby in the old hospital, where she has complete charge of the pharmacy, doing both the ordering and dispensing, as well as keeping books. All orders for medicine are in French, in which language Bobby is perfecting herself with further study.

She told of a welcome party they gave for the new arrivals on Valentine's Day, which all enjoyed to the fullest.

Bobby had to drive back to Lodja with helpers, a 13 hour drive in a pick-up truck, but one of the native helpers also went to give assistance if necessary. She says she misses the violin which was broken, but she has borrowed a violin from "Aunt Billie Stiltz", who is one of the oldest missionaries in that field there, who will play her marimba while Bobby uses the violin.

One of the native boys at Lodja, with whom Bobby played duets (she on violin and he on marimba) is now at Wembo Nyama and hoping she will find time to play more duets with him. He has offered to be Bobby's "informant" or interpreter while there.

Diane Smith Starring In Operetta

Diane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Smith, of Pocono Lake, and a junior in the music department at Southern Seminary and Junior College in Buena Vista, Va., has been chosen for the lead in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Patience." It will be given at the college on May day.

Miss Smith is also taking part in the production of "La Boheme" and will lead her Cornelian society in their coming song-fest. She is president of Southern Seminary and College Glee Club and an active member of the Gerschwin club, and Cornelian Society. Before entering Southern Junior College, Miss Smith was a student at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston.

Onyx is produced in the San Quentin area of Lower California.

Don't tell anyone I told you, but do be cautious this Easter before biting into those prettily colored "bunny eggs." Peter Cottontail obviously has an "April Fool" complex, and is augmenting his usual line of colored and chocolate goodies with others of pure castille. This comes to us on good authority, directly from Sue Edinger of our cosmetic department.

Whether Peter intends to be prankish, or is merely trying to be practical, no one knows. He has, nevertheless, done a splendid thing for those mothers who worry over the number of goodies their children stow away each Easter. Packaged in plastic and nesting in a bed of grass, these eggs are as pretty as jelly beans. In boxes of three, they are 69c. At the same price one can also buy a cylinder of bubble bath topped by a castille rabbit. Two eggs and two adorable bunnies come boxed at $1. Some of Peter's young friends might be tempted to go gunning for an Easter bunny who brings SOAP . . . but there'll be small cause for worry once the small fry see that Mother's only concern will be to disprove the argument, "But Mommie, that soap's too nice to use."

It's difficult to walk past the candy department these days, with everything looking and smelling so good. Is there anything more tempting than cream filled chocolate eggs? Or more treasured than the hollow rabbit that's too adorable to break? Wide-eyed adults and children admire the enormous bunny standing upright on our display case . . . $4.98 worth of consolation for an aching sweet tooth!

Easter can be as frivolous or as practical as you desire this year. We at Wyckoff's believe that everyone will enjoy a remembrance that is pretty and gay, whatever its price. We think little girls will love the enameled bunny pins designed for their lapels, and that boys and girls of all ages would enjoy finding an Easter basket overflowing with books. It doesn't cost a mint of money to enjoy happiness. When Peter Cottontail comes hopping down the bunny trail, HOP WITH HIM. But, if you must, hop SCOTCH!

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Opening night activity in the 1952 Junior Gold Medal Basketball Tournament at the Monroe County YMCA drew the largest crowd in the history of any first night in the tournament, it was reported by John DeVivo, who has witnessed virtually all the tournaments played to date. East Stroudsburg High cut seven players from its baseball roster yesterday, while East Stroudsburg State Teachers College reduced its diamond squad to 28 players on the same day.

Jim Storch, who received his start as a professional umpire in the North Atlantic League, is on the Southern Association's retired list this season, although no reason has been announced. George Dries, who first drew the attention of major league scouts while pitching for East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is now in spring training with the Houston club of the class "AAA" Texas League. George is a big right hander with plenty of speed.

Charley "Chuck" Quimby, who held down third base for part of the 1950 campaign with Bangor, when the North Atlantic League was still in operation, is scheduled to hold a five-day baseball school in Statesboro, Ga. beginning April 1. Quimby is scheduled to manage that town's entry in the Georgia State League, a class "D" circuit. There were many sad hearts in Monroe County and surroundings areas when Catasauqua reached the end of its quest for a state PIAA basketball title last night, after suffering a 61-53 reversal at the hands of Coatesville, at Hershey.

George Pfister, manager of the Hazleton entry in the North Atlantic League in 1950, and a catcher with Montreal, International League, last season, may become the bull pen coach for the Brooklyn Dodgers during the coming campaign. If Pfister is added to the coaching staff, it will mean that Brooklyn will carry only two catchers during the coming campaign. Pfister suffered a ten day suspension while piloting Hazleton in the NAL, for rough treatment of umpires. The suspension was handed out by Ernest "Duke" Landgraf, president of the circuit.

Frank Radler's Union City, Tenn. entry in the class "D" Kitty League will open its spring training grind on Monday, April 14, with all work to take place right in Union City. The club will be quartered at the Dany Crockett Hotel during the training grind. Radler, who currently lives in Readers, expects to arrive in Union City on or before Saturday, April 12. Some of the leading athletic equipment dealers in the east will be present at a program to be given at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on Saturday, and the equipment will be examined by visiting coaches.

Deanis Roth, Lehigh's big point producer, finished the 1951-1952 basketball season with an average of 23.8 markers a ball game. Frank Oravec, Palmerton's big gun, had an average of 18.5 during the same campaign. Two post-season basketball playoffs netted Hellertown a profit of $167.85. Hellertown won the Lehigh-Northampton League title this season, after a playoff with Coplay, but fell before Pine Grove, in the battle for District 11 class "B" honors.

Twelve teams are currently interested in joining the Northampton County American Legion League. It was revealed at a recent meeting. Included on the list were Bangor and Pen Argyl. However, another club, namely the George N. Kemp Post, East Stroudsburg, is rumored as being interested in joining this same circuit, providing there is room. All proceeds from the dance being sponsored by the Readers baseball club tomorrow at Tannersville Inn will be used to support the Pocono Mountains League entry during the coming campaign.

Bob Dillinger's sale by the Chicago White Sox to Sacramento, of the Pacific Coast League, came as no surprise to this column. Dillinger played service baseball with Mike Rubish, head club pro at Glen Brook Country Club, and Mike passed on the information that all of Dillinger's trouble in the majors is due to the fact that the third sacker hates to hustle. According to reports this is exactly the reason why Bob was shipped out of the American League. East Stroudsburg High will play all its home baseball games on the playground field.

Louise DePaul, vice president of the Pocono High School Alumni Association and postmaster at Mt. Pocono, is a former baseball and basketball star at Pocono. Louise is expected to be on hand on Saturday, when the alumni group presents its annual squad dance and cake walk at Bartonville Hotel. The third and final playoff game between Tannersville and Tobyhanna in the Pocono Mountains League, will be held on the Coolbaugh High court on Monday. Both teams have registered one victory thus far in the championship series. Tannersville finished first during the regular campaign and Tobyhanna second.

Deerhead Inn, Cramer's Cut Rate Win In Tournament

Pass First Tests On YMCA Court

John Drew led Deerhead Inn to a 76-69 victory over the Sherman Theater in the opening round of the Senior YMCA Tournament last night at the Monroe County YMCA, while Cramer's Cut Rate proved too much for Barrett's Bullets in the Junior Gold Medal half of last night's card, 60-42. The largest crowd of the tournament thus far this year was on hand to witness both encounters.

Drew came up with 26 points in a winning cause, while Al "Mick" Huey and Don Miller tried desperately to turn the tide of battle by scoring 23 and 19 markers respectively for the Sherman Theater.

However, Deerhead held the upper hand throughout the ball game, although outscored in the second half. The winning aggregation led 14-8 at the end of the first period and 37-23 at the halfway mark.

Sherman's quintet came back to battle Deerhead Inn on even terms in the third quarter, 19-19, and hold the upper hand in the final quarter, 27-20, but the late rush came too late to change the tide of battle.

Deerhead made 12 of 26 shots from the foul line, while Sherman's crew hit the cords on nine of 14 tosses from the same distance.

Second Game

Barrett was able to keep pace with Cramer's Cut Rate in the first and third periods of the night, and even held a 7-6 edge during the final round. However, the 23-4 advantage piled up by the East Stroudsburg contingent was far too much for the Barrett cagers to overcome.

Cramer's club made 12 of 23 foul shots, while Barrett came up with 12 conversions in 20 attempts from the charity stripe.

Tom Bonser and Bob Rice were the big guns in a winning cause, with 18 and 17 points respectively. Ralph Williams, with nine counters, paced the Barrett attack.

Today's schedule calls for Pocono Gardens Lodge and the Vets to tangle in the senior tournament at 7 p. m., while Newell's Avening Men and the Units come to blows at 8:15, in another senior tournament outing.

White Sox Blast Cleveland, 8-5

Tucson, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox exploded with five runs in the ninth inning yesterday to whip Cleveland's Indians, 8-5.

In that inning the Sox got the first two men on base via walks from Lou Brissie. Then Gerald Fahr replaced Brissie and the Chicagoans collected three hits, the third a home run by rookie George Wilson.

Stobbs Shines
Left-hander "Chuck" Stobbs hurled a two-hit shutout in his five-inning stint. But Harold Brown, who followed Stobbs to the mound, gave up five runs and six hits.

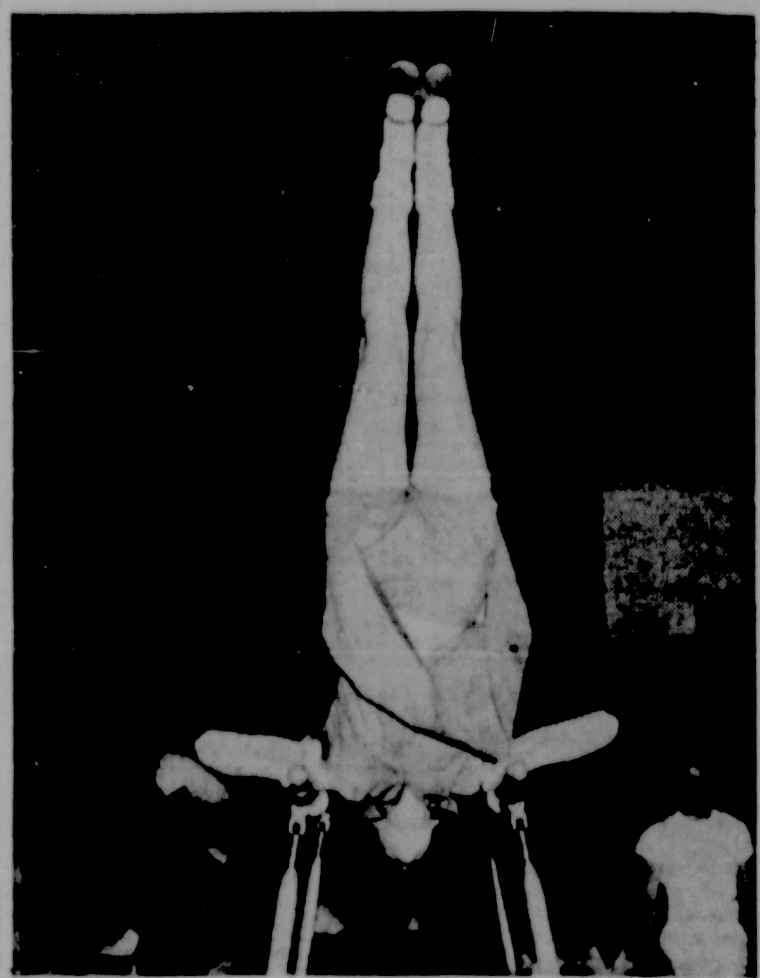

Illinois Edges Santa Clara

Seattle, AP—John Kerr's 26-point shooting show and a strong finish earned Illinois a 67-64 victory over Santa Clara last night and third place in the NCAA basketball championships.

Big Gun
Illinois was trailing 12-6 when Kerr entered the game late in the first quarter. From there on he missed only one basket in nine shots and scored three times from the foul line, in the initial half.

The score was tied four times and the lead changed hands five times during the first half.

Davey Stops Williams In Fifth Round

Chicago (AP)—"Chuck" Davey, scholarly southpaw from Michigan State College last night scored a technical knockout over Ike Williams, former world's lightweight champion, in 1:47 of the fifth round.

The victory took Davey to the top among welterweight challengers for the championship. The battle, scheduled for ten rounds, was halted by Referee William Doty with the former 135 pound champion staggering and unable to defend himself under Davey's relentless two-fisted attack. Williams was on the verge of falling to the floor of the ring when Referee Doty waved Davey to his corner as the winner. Davey is undefeated in 32 professional bouts.

Patetic Sight
Williams was a pathetic sight as the Michigan State graduate battered him into helplessness. Ike was slow and showed no semblance of former champion class at any stage of the one sided bout. Davey, boxing masterfully, won all five rounds as Williams stalked in close trying to land a finishing right hand blow.

Each weighed 145 pounds, two under welterweight limit. Williams went into the ring without his manager, Frank "Blinky" Palermo, in his corner. Palermo had planned to serve as one of Ike's seconds. Palermo is under investigation by the Illinois Athletic commission which is checking his application for renewal of his manager's license. Chairman Joseph Triner said he had written the Pennsylvania commission for certain information and until the investigation is concluded Palermo will not be permitted to perform managerial or second's duties in Illinois.

Davey clearly outboxed the slowed down Williams through the opening round. "Chuck" shot stinging lefts, and once stunned the ex champion. Southpaw Davey split Ike's left cheek with stiff right jabs in the second. The scholarly welterweight made a show of the former 135-pound king in the third, striking out with abandon as he rocked Ike about the ring.

Williams tripped and fell flat in the fourth as Davey continued scoring points. The end came quickly with the start of the fifth. The fading Williams was strictly on the receiving end of Davey's jolting punches and was unable to defend himself when the one sided bout was halted.

Farrell Nips Westinghouse In Thriller

Pittsburgh (AP)—Farrell High school's basketball team had the battle of its life last night before winning a 54-53 decision over Pittsburgh Westinghouse in the western regional class "A" game of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic league.

Farrell's sparkling Julius McCoy scored 24 points but was tied for high point honors by Westinghouse's Lem Nixon.

The Mercer County team now will meet Coatesville at Philadelphia Saturday night for the state championship.

Farrell, which now has a 28-1 record, led 19-14 at the end of the first period, 30-29 at the half and 44-41 at the end of the third quarter.

Big Gun

McCoy scored 19 points in the first half but he was benched in the third period for seven minutes after he had collected three personal fouls.

Westinghouse, playing in this western regional for the third straight year, forged a 6-6 tie in the first period and a 34-34 knot in the third quarter but all the rest of the time Farrell was ahead.

In the final minute with Farrell leading 52-51 McCoy dumped a layup that seemed to clinch the win. However, with 15 seconds to play, Westinghouse's Charley Hefflin scored a field goal to bring his team within a single point. Farrell then froze the ball for the remaining seconds to emerge with almost an identical triumph of a year ago. In 1951's western regional finals Farrell beat Westinghouse 55-54.

Both teams scored 21 field goals but Farrell's accuracy was greater. The Steelers shot only 54 times while Westinghouse attempted 67 field goals.

At the free throw line Farrell converted 12 of 20 and Westinghouse 11 of 20.

Simmons Scheduled To Depart From Army Life Next Month

Clearwater, Fla. (AP)—Curt Simmons is saying goodbye to Army life in a couple of weeks—and, brother, how that piece of news is boosting the Philadelphia Phillies' metabolism!

Headquarters of the 28th U. S. Infantry Division in Germany announced yesterday the stylish southpaw pitching star is scheduled to leave for a port of embarkation the first week in April, and then take a ship back to this country.

That is taken to mean the 22-year-old hurler from Egypt, Pa., now a sergeant in charge of athletics, will be available to the Phillies soon after the opening of the major league baseball season April 15.

So much, from the Phillies' slant, hinges upon the return of Simmons, and in something like the form which helped to hoist the one time White Kids to a pennant victory in 1950.

From all reports, Simmons has not lost his fine touch. Although he naturally has devoted himself chiefly to the more serious business of soldiering, he has managed to keep in top trim as a pitcher against the day of his demobilization.

Confident

Therefore, Manager Eddie Sawyer and all the Phils are confident Curt will go a long way toward putting the whiz back in the team which two seasons ago delighted baseball fans with its youth and zing.

The Phillies have been asked again and again, at this training base, how they're going to do this year. The usual answer is: "We'll do all right when we get that left-hander back."

That esteemed left-hander Simmons, who received a $65,000 bonus for signing with the Phils, won 17 games and lost eight in 1950. He was inducted into the Army September 5, of that year, when his outfit of the Pennsylvania National Guard was ordered into Federal service. He was the first major leaguer to be inducted into the armed forces since the outbreak of the Korean warfare.

Sawyer said news of Simmons' homecoming has given a big boost to the spirits and hopes of his men. Maybe pennant talk now, he added, will be something more than mere reliving of past glory.

Cage Coaches Want Changes

Seattle (AP)—College basketball coaches recommended over-whelmingly yesterday a change in the rules to require the shooting of all free throw chances.

The vote to change the present rule, which allows a team to waive a free throw and take the ball out of bounds instead, was reported as 45 to 5.

It was tied in a "package deal" that would, at the same time, increase the penalty for fouls by the defensive team. It would allow a second free throw, on such fouls, if the first were missed.

Another Change
The coaches also recommended changing of the five-personal-fouls-and-out rule. They proposed that a player be allowed three personals in each half. If he was called three times in the first half, he would be out. Then he could reenter the game in the second half.

The coaches' proposals were submitted to the Collegiate Rules Committee, which went into session this afternoon.

Colgate To Practice

Hamilton, N. Y. (AP)—Colgate University announced last night that "in simple fairness" to its new head football coach, Harold W. Lahar, it would hold "limited" practice this spring.

Quantico Wins Series

Quantico, Va. (AP)—The Quantico Marines beat the San Diego Marines here last night, 71-55, to win the All-Marine basketball championship. Quantico whipped San Diego Tuesday night, 66-58.

Yanks Sell Mauch To Cardinals

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees yesterday sold infielder Gene Mauch to the St. Louis Cardinals for the $10,000 waiver price. The 26-year-old player had been drafted from Milwaukee of the American association last fall after batting .303 in 37 games for that club.

Mauch has seen extensive service in the National League, with Brooklyn, Boston, Pittsburgh and Chicago.

Pennsylvania Will Refuse To Participate In NCAA Television Plan Which Proves Illegal

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

Philadelphia, (AP)—Still fighting the battle for football television, the University of Pennsylvania must be shown that the NCAA control plan for 1952 is legal. Otherwise Penn will refuse to participate in it.

Franny Murray, Penn's earnest athletic director, made that statement yesterday. He wouldn't elaborate, merely referring to his lengthy statement at the NCAA convention in January. He maintained that any agreement imposing restrictions on the individual colleges was illegal. The firm set of Murray's jaw as he discussed the matter yesterday indicated that his opinions won't be changed easily.

The 1952 NCAA program hasn't been fully devised. Preliminary plans indicate that more games will be televised and more small colleges will participate. But it is up to the NCAA television committee, the sponsors and others to agree on the final form. Then it will be submitted to the NCAA membership for acceptance or rejection.

Advisers

Murray will have his legal advisers look it over carefully and give an opinion on its legality. "If they say it isn't, we won't participate," he snapped.

That might be enough to throw the whole study out of kilter, for Penn figures to have one of the strongest football teams in the east next fall and the most attractive schedule, opening with Notre Dame in September.

Murray, who was connected with radio and TV stations before becoming athletic director, went on in a puzzled tone: "They've got to come to it—in a year or two or three. It's the greatest medium we have for telling our story to the public. Why don't they understand that now?"

Football attendance figures last season at 14 colleges in the area covered by local telecasts, he says, show that Penn outdrew the other 13 combined. And Princeton, one of the 13, outdrew the total of the remaining 12. What was left averaged out to a very small per-game attendance for the rest—not much more than the number of undergraduates, alumni and others who normally would attend such games.

And the average decline in attendance for these schools in 1951 under controlled television was much greater than in 1950, when all Penn games were on the air.

Griddler Sues Olyphant For Broken Nose

Seranton, (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Dominick Martin Jr. of nearby Olyphant yesterday sued the Olyphant school district for $10,000 damages for injuries he said he suffered in a high school football game.

Battered Helmet

The youth contends he received a broken nose in an Armistice Day grid game with Blakely because his coach and school authorities refused to provide him with a proper helmet.

Prices Listed For Title Bout

Chicago, (AP)—Ringside seats and center mezzanine locations for the Sugar Ray Robinson-Rocky Graziano middleweight championship fight at the Chicago stadium April 15 will cost $20.

Approve

The Illinois Athletic Commission yesterday approved the price sale for the 15-round title bout. The prices were scaled down to $5 for tickets in the second row. All seats will be reserved.

The Columbia Broadcasting System, which will televise the bout, will black out of the Chicago area.

Giants Rally To Trip Cubs

Phoenix, Ariz., (AP)—For the second straight day, the New York Giants spotted the Chicago Cubs four runs, then rallied to beat them, 9 to 6 yesterday.

It was the seventh victory in a row for the National League champions who now have won 11 of 18 games played.

Big Attack
The Giants hammered out 15 hits yesterday afternoon, with Bobby Thomson, Alvin Dark and Whitey Lockman contributing home runs. Thomson hit his with two on. Dark and Lockman each connected with one on.

For the Cubs, veteran Ron Northey homered with one on off Sal Maglie in the seventh. The Northey wallop provided the first runs allowed by Maglie in 20 innings.

Eagles Sign Second Negro

Philadelphia, (AP)—Don Stevens, fleet Negro halfback of the University of Illinois, has signed a professional football contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football league.

The 172-pound scatback paced Illinois' 1951 Big Ten champions with a rushing average of 6.2 yards per try, rolling up 383 yards in 62 carries.

Pittsburgh

A native of Pittsburgh, Stevens is the second Negro to sign a 1952 pact with the Eagles. The other is Ralph Goldston, a speedster from Youngstown (O.) College.

Browns Triumph Over Pirates

San Bernardino, Calif., (AP)—The St. Louis Browns scored all of their runs off Ron Necciai in the first inning yesterday as they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2.

Fourth Time

The American Leaguers, defeating the Pirates for the fourth time in a row, nicked Necciai for three singles in their big inning. Necciai also gave up two bases on balls and let go with a wild pitch.

The Pirates outhit the Browns 9-6 but couldn't put their hits together until the ninth when they scored both of their runs.

Team Defeats
Onawa Club

East Stroudsburg High defeated Stroudsburg High's Onawa Rifle club last night, 438 427, on the winning team's home range. The loss broke a six point victory string for the Onawa sharpshooters.

Although each club contained ten men, only the five highest scores counted.

Top Scores

Those leading East Stroudsburg to victory were George Eilenberger, 92; Francis Naugle, 90; Jack Kinnaman, 87; Bill Serfass, 85, and Nelson Shirk, 84.

Onawa's big guns were Joe Tamulas, 87; Dave Turner, 86; Jack Lift, 85; Ray Fitzgerald, 85, and Barry Albert, 84.

Christenberry To Call Up Two More Managers

New York, (AP)—State Boxing Boss Bob Christenberry said yesterday he planned to call up two more fight managers—Irvine Cohen and Hymie Wallman—for questioning about statements they made recently.

Cohen is the manager of former middleweight champion "Rocky" Graziano and welterweight contender Billy Graham, and co-manager of heavyweight Irish Bobby Murphy and other boxers.

Wallman manages Johnny Bratton, ex-NBA welterweight king, and heavyweight Cesar Brion of Argentina.

Admissions

Cohen and Graziano both admitted on March 17 that Eddie Coco, who is appealing a Florida murder conviction, received 11 per cent of Rocky's purses until last January. They made the admissions at a meeting of the Illinois Athletic commission in Chicago when Graziano signed for his title fight with middleweight champion Ray Robinson.

Christenberry's interest in Wallman concerns a statement he made to a reporter Tuesday that he associates socially with Frank Carbo. Carbo is a shadowy figure with a long police record who allegedly wields tremendous behind-the-scenes influence in boxing.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Think well before taking any money from large amounts. Speedy turnovers of one are not best. Be grateful for moderate gains.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Likely to be considerable contention in personal affairs; be prepared, practical, busy all season. Success eventually will be yours.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Trend is upward and better. Do what you can to help it. When others are well and happy you enjoy things better. Cooperate!

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Don't be an alarmist but be ready for the unexpected; the necessary quick change. Changeable conditions can serve many good purposes.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—One of the best planetary days this month. So study and act on plan of operation. Avoid useless moves, especially in finances, business or domestic matters.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Level of carefully in most activities that entail money, any values. Prospects not all encouraging, but there are always opportunities to improve them.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Mostly favorable all round. Start early and head advantages. Forget personalities, concentrate on matters over essentials. Heart interests can promote happiness.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)

Today's aspects do not urge striving for quick money or business gains in large amounts. Speedy turnovers of one are not best. Be grateful for moderate gains.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Most indications on favorable perhaps, but afternoon should be profitable for proper efforts. Have eye on what makes current progress, keep ear to ground for new leads.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—A steady upward trend in many fields. Get started early and returns will reward. Heart interests favored.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius)—A steady upward trend in many fields. Get started early and returns will reward. Heart interests favored.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—Matters of property, labor and employment are encouraging. Brotherhood practiced rightly would give life a healthy and happy lift. Act on that idea!

YOU BORN TODAY like doing. Impulsive at times, but progressive. Have ambition to try unusual and hard things that others often sidestep. You are a leader; you would rather direct, plan the big things. Balance all sensibly with reason and good will. Be patient, tolerant.

Birthdate: Fred's Converse Beach, inventor.

New Cancer Treatment Inaugurated

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)
New York (AP) — A radium crossroads, a new and spectacular treatment for cancer, was inaugurated yesterday at Roosevelt hospital.

The crossroads is 25 separate beams of radium, traveling separate pathways into a patient's body, but all meeting and crossing each other in his cancer.

This concentrated the rays' destructive power almost wholly inside the cancer. The burning effects are small along each of the separate pathways which go through healthy tissues.

The crossroads apparatus contains nearly two ounces of radium, valued at one million dollars and split into 25 separate two-gram radium capsules to furnish that number of beams. This principle of using radium is new and is named covering-beam therapy. The beams each are pencil thin. They issue in a circle from the mouth of a projector which looks like a fat and stubby big gun.

More than a year was spent fashioning this gun and building the underground, concrete-walled, and rock-lined rooms where the treatment will be given. The designer is Dr. Gioacchino Fiella, the director Dr. Douglas Quick, Dr. Edith Quimby is consultant.

The trio concluded a 7,000-mile tour last summer and has traveled extensively among churches of all faiths and Youth for Christ groups during the school year.

Members of the trio are Edwin Hostetter, of East Stroudsburg, Pa., David Hill of Hadley, N. Y., and Homer Cornish of Baltimore, Md. Mr. Hostetter, chaplain of the senior class, is a member of the radio choir. Mr. Hill, previously a member of the college band, contributes to the literary opportunities at Houghton through the college paper. Mr. Cornish, also a former band member, has been active in football.

Robert Merz of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the accompanist for the trio. He is a Greek major and is preparing for the teaching profession.
